

Leasing a Horse

There are many advantages to leasing a horse other than the obvious "more rides for your buck". One of the most significant and wonderful is the opportunity to form a special partnership with one horse.

Those who want to maximize their horse experience can ride more frequently and have the time to deepen their understanding and companionship with a particular equine friend.

Those who hope to show need much more preparation than a ride a week, and leasing can make this possible.

Leasing a horse is also a great choice in considering or preparing for horse ownership. It will allow you to begin to experience what owning a horse can mean.

Over the years many of my riders have had the joy of leasing one or more horses with me before choosing which equine partner/friend was ideal for them. (Some of their stories can be found on the rider testimonial page.)
